HEAR FROM STUDENTS

"Many people want to leave their town after high school. Don't leave until you fully examine the big picture and find out what works best for you in all areas. Going to college close to home saves money, time, and provides so many options and opportunities."
Payton J.

"I started college later in the year due to my military training commitments. Everyone made my transition as easy as possible. One of the best things about LRSC is that everyone cares about your learning. Faculty and staff are invested in student learning and are so friendly and personable, which is what makes it a great place."
Alysha M.

"I liked Student Senate right away. There are multiple opportunities at LRSC for students to be involved. At a larger campus I don't know if I would have been confident to run for President, but there is so much support for students here to take those chances."
Dustyn N.
